Recruitment Information for International Candidates

Introduction to Our School

Thank you for your interest in working with us here at Kolej Tuanku Ja'afar (KTJ). We are one of Malaysia's premier international schools for students aged 3 to 19 years. We provide boarding from the age of 11 and enjoy a diverse student community, with young people from over 20 different countries across Asia, Europe, Australia and Africa.

Accredited by the Council of International Schools (CIS), KTJ operates as a charity, meaning all of our profits are channelled back into the School for the benefit of our community.

In the Secondary School, we have established ourselves over more than 25 years as one of the leading British-style, co-educational boarding school in Malaysia, with over 800 secondary students aged 11 to 19. Our Secondary students study the Cambridge IGCSE and A Level programmes.

In September 2013, we opened our state-of-the-art Primary School, which currently has 225 students. Students in our Primary School study the British National Curriculum for Maths and English, alongside the International Primary Curriculum.

We provide our students with a happy, calm and secure learning environment, spread over 80 acres of beautiful Malaysian countryside in the state of Negeri Sembilan. We are located in the town of Mantin, which is an hour's drive south of Kuala Lumpur and approximately 40 minutes from Kuala Lumpur International Airport (KLIA). The nearest large town is Seremban, which is a 30-minute drive away. A four-hour drive south will take you to Singapore and a four-hour drive north will enable you to reach Penang. The School boasts excellent facilities, and our Trustees recognise the need to continually develop and improve these.

What makes KTJ special is the students and the community spirit that exists within the School. Our students show true dedication to and motivation for learning, which makes teaching at KTJ a highly rewarding experience. While academic excellence is at the heart of the School, we also value active involvement in sports and extra-curricular activities and a number of students participate in sports and performing arts at the highest level. All of our staff play an important role in this aspect of our school life. In addition to our academic and extra-curricular programmes, we also provide a high level of pastoral care and support, as well as offering EAL, Learning Support and counselling.

KTJ is a wonderful place to live and work and this is reflected in the large number of long-serving staff amongst our teaching body. There is a real sense of collegiality and staff get together outside of work to socialise, to play sport and to have fun.

International staff tend to use holidays to travel within Malaysia and further afield. KLIA is the main hub for Air Asia and therefore a huge range of destinations throughout Asia and further afield are within easy reach, at very reasonable prices.

Please do also have a look at our website ktj.edu.my, where you will find much more information about the programmes we offer and school life here at KTJ.

Working at KTJ

Our Vision, Mission and Values

Everything we do at KTJ is underpinned by our Guiding Principles, our Vision, Mission and Values. Although we make sure we review these regularly so that they continue to be relevant in our changing world, at the heart, they remain the same as those developed by our Trustees when the school was founded in 1991. Throughout our recruitment and selection process we look for people who share our ethos.

Vision

Our vision is to be the school of choice in Malaysia, empowering students to be the global leaders of a sustainable world.

Mission

Our mission is to provide an outstanding, British-style, holistic education in a boarding environment for Malaysian and international students. Our close-knit community reflects the highest moral standards, recognising the diversity of students drawn from a number of different faiths and races.

Values

Our core values of mutual-respect, compassion and empathy are the aspiring virtues for all people in our school community.

The School Year

The School year runs from August to June, and is divided into three terms, as follows:

Term 1 : August to early December.

Term 2 : January to early April.

Term 3 : Mid-April to end of June.

The Primary School teaching week is Monday to Friday; while the Secondary School operates full teaching days on Monday to Friday and a half day on a Saturday.

Malaysia has 17 public holidays a year and school holidays are never far away. We have a mid-term breaks in each term, with the Secondary School also having a short exeat around every three weeks.

The School Day

In the Secondary School, the teaching days run as follows:

8:00 am - 3:30 pm on Mondays and Fridays.

8:30 am - 3:30 pm on Tuesdays to Thursdays

8:30 am - 1:00 pm on Saturdays.

In the Primary School, our teaching week is Monday to Friday and the school day starts at 8:30 am finishing at 2:30 pm.

In both Primary and Secondary, extra-curricular activities take place after the end of the teaching day (until 3:40 pm in the Primary and until 6:00 pm in the Secondary). All staff are expected to lead extra-curricular activities each week, with most taking two sessions.

Working in a Boarding School

Our Secondary School has almost 600 boarding students which makes it a vibrant and exciting place to work. It is a very busy, rarely quiet, but tremendously rewarding experience. Activities for our students are scheduled in the evenings and at weekends. To maintain our boarding ethos, all Secondary staff are strongly encouraged to get involved and they are expected to help out with some of these events, each year, on a rotational basis. Many staff volunteer to run specialist events, trips or activities, in which they have a special interest. In the Secondary School resident staff are also expected to undertake a small number of evening duties (two per term), to help supervise the students and to allow them to experience elements of boarding life. For those who are interested in getting more involved, there is the possibility of being trained to be a Relief Tutor, which is a great introduction into best boarding practice. Many Relief Tutors have gone on to be full-time boarding House Tutors who have significantly more involvement and commitments. All boarding roles are recognised by an allowance relative to the roles and responsibilities undertaken.

Salary and Benefits

Malaysia is a rapidly developing country where the cost of living is still relatively low and where standard of living can be high. In general, the cost of living is about 40% of the UK.

Salaries are awarded on the basis of the experience and qualifications. We regularly review our salary scales, which are structured to enable ongoing development and progression. International staff also receive an overseas allowance, which is an additional 30% on top of their salary.

We offer a comprehensive set of benefits to our international staff, including a financial inducement at the start of the contract and at renewal, if agreed; free accommodation and household bills; free meals during term time in the school dining hall; financial support with freight at the start and end of the contract; flights home annually; and medical and hospitalisation insurance. Fees for staff children are around RM1,000 per term (just over £300). Staff also have the option to participate in the Government's Employees' Provident Fund, to which the School contributes an additional 19%.

Staff can make use of various school facilities, including the squash courts, swimming pool and gym. Next to the School is a golf course, which offers discounts to KTJ staff.

More details of salary and benefits will be provided through the application process.

Introduction to Malaysia

Malaysia is a beautiful and diverse country in Southeast Asia. It is made up of two regions, Peninsular Malaysia and Malaysian Borneo, with thirteen states and three federal territories. Its capital city, Kuala Lumpur, or KL as it is commonly called, is a modern city and the economic and cultural hub of Malaysia.

Malaysia has experienced a relatively stable political and economic climate for decades and is seen to be one of the safest countries in which to work and live in this part of the world. It is a constitutional monarchy headed by a Yang DiPertuan Agong (King). There is a democratically elected government, led by a Prime Minister and governed by a Cabinet.

The constitution grants freedom of religion and freedom of worship is practised. The country's religion is predominantly Islam, with strong Christian, Hindu and Chinese traditions in many communities. It is common to see temples, mosques and churches within the same area. The population is mostly Malay, with significant Chinese and Indian minorities.

The majority of Malaysians speak a good level of English and it is an easy country to live in as an English speaker.

Life in Malaysia

Living in Malaysia is as expensive or as cheap as you want to make it. The selection of Western and Asian foodstuffs and other household items is plentiful. There are lots of supermarkets and outdoor markets from which to buy fresh produce. Fruit is abundant all year round and is relatively cheap. Local food is very reasonably priced and one of the pleasures of being in Malaysia is to frequent the enormous number of restaurants and food stalls. By contrast, alcohol is relatively expensive. The cost of petrol is subsidised by the government and is therefore cheap (around £0.40 per litre).

All international staff are offered accommodation on site or in the nearby vicinity. On site, staff apartments are housed in the Arts Centre. The apartments are one or two bedroomed with a bathroom, and a living room with kitchenette. There is also a Common Room with television, cooking facilities, etc., and these are often utilised for social occasions. All meals can be taken in the Dining Hall during term time. There is no charge for electricity or wifi; the only regular outgoings tend to be private telephone calls, satellite television subscriptions and transport. All the accommodation has standard furniture. Most staff take advantage of the freight provision to bring personal effects such as kitchen items, books, pictures, sheets and towels. Plans are currently being devised for new purpose-built staff accommodation on site, and this is expected to be ready for occupation in 2021. This will include a number of additional communal facilities including a barbecue area and a swimming pool.

Climate

The climate in Malaysia is pleasant all year round (29°C–34°C), although there is a relatively high level of humidity. There is little difference in temperature throughout the year and there are no distinct seasons, other than the wet season which runs from October to January. Lightweight clothing is adequate throughout day and night, unless you visit the surrounding hill resorts where it is cooler. Most buildings, including all classrooms in the School and all accommodation, are air-conditioned.

Transport

The nearest train station is only 10 minutes' drive away and taxis, which are plentiful and cheap in comparison to the UK and Australia, can be used to move round. Grab, which recently took over Uber in Malaysia, is also available and can be a cheaper and more reliable option than taxis in some areas. A school van is also available to staff.

Most staff members choose to buy a car, with second-hand cars being available for RM10,000-RM15,000 (£2,000-£3,000). Garage servicing is cheap, as are parts for Malaysian-made cars. Driving in Malaysia is not difficult, and is on the left-hand side of the road.

Long-distance bus services provide good, and incredibly cheap, connections to other parts of Malaysia and Singapore.

Healthcare

Healthcare in Malaysia is as good as, if not better than many other countries around the world. Malaysia has become a centre for health and medical tourism. There are excellent specialist clinics and hospitals. Members of staff are covered for visits to KTJ's panel of doctors, as well as for hospitalisation and surgery.

We have appointed various panel clinics in nearby vicinities, as well as a number of panel hospitals for health care. Staff are given a medical card which enables them to gain admission to a large number of hospitals around Malaysia for in-patient treatment.

Internet Access

All staff have a school email account and there is wi-fi access on site almost everywhere on site. Malaysia is technically advanced in the field of IT and PCs, laptops and peripherals are readily available at good prices. All staff are provided with school laptops.
